Summaries

Stripes (Inspired by the book A Bad Case of the Stripes) In order to ensure her popularity, Camilla Cream always does what is expected, until the day arrives when she no longer recognizes herself. Camilla Cream loves lima beans, but she never eats them. Why? Because the other kids in her school don't like them. And Camilla Cream is very, very worried about what other people think of her. In fact, she's so worried that she's about to break out in...a bad case of stripes! (Excerpt from the publishing company Scholastic, Inc.)

The Teacher is Sick (Inspired by the book Miss Malarkey Won't Be in Today) Miss Malarkey is stuck at home, delirious and helplessly sick. But she can't help wondering which substitute was called in to teach her class. Her imagination starts running wild, conjuring up all sorts of outrageous and chaotic scenarios. When her speculations get the best of her, Miss Malarkey rushes off to school to stop the madness; but, she is in for a delightful shock when she reaches Room 10. (Excerpt from the publishing company Walker & Company)

Chicken Pox (Inspired by the book Itchy Itchy, Chicken Pox) What are these spots? Oh no! Chicken pox! In catchy rhyme, a boy describes being sick with this itchy disease. Spots are everywhere and it's hard not to scratch, but an oatmeal bath and lotion take away some of the itchiness. The days go by, and the spots go away. At last the spots are gone, and he feels better. Hooray! It's back to school again! (Excerpt from the publishing company Scholastic, Inc.)
